SCHOOL MATTERS.

First Meeting of the New Board.

SHAFER ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Standing Committee Announced—The Board Declines to Vacate the Rooms in the City Hall.

The old Board of Education met last night for the first time with President Pomeroy in the chair and Secretary Baker present. While the secretary was writing up the minutes President Pomeroy addressed the board and thanked them for their conduct during his administration.

He also thanked the Superintendent and the press for their treatment of the board. He believes the board has done more than any other board for the schools.

The minutes of last evening's meeting were read and approved, and the board adjourned sine die.

Mr. Witmer called the new board to order and stated that the election of a chairman would be in order.

Mr. Davis was called to the chair to act as temporary chairman and the roll was called. All were present except Mr. Gaffey, who is in the City of Mexico.

A. O. Schaefer was unanimously elected president of the board.

On taking his seat, Mr. Schaefer thanked the board for the honor shown him. He stated that in making up the committees he will do it for the best interests of the schools.

Mr. Baker was elected secretary.

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Marsh was presented with a handsome bouquet by his friends.

The rules of the old board were adopted. The board then took a recess of ten minutes.

The board was called to order and the chairman asked the secretary to read his appointment of committees, which was done as follows:

Witmer on finance, ways and means, rules and teachers.

Gaffey on rules, finance, buildings and ways and means.

Crowley on visiting, insurance and finance.

Harber on buildings, visiting and rules.

Kierke on janitors, buildings and furniture.

Marsh on furniture, janitors and insurance.

Davis on teachers, furniture, ways and means and visiting.

Boal on insurance, teachers and janitors.

A communication from the City Attorney, asking the board to vacate their rooms in the City Hall at once, was read.

Motion to pay no attention to the communication, and to instruct the Building Committee to furnish a shanty for the board, and to place their communication on file, were tried at the chair.

Mr. Pomeroy thought a committee should be appointed to consult with the new board, as he is satisfied that the old board did not understand the matter when they passed the order to vacate. He stated that a member of the old board caused the trouble.

The chair appointed a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Kierke, Davis and Boal, and the superintendent, to visit the new board and explain the matter.

The leave of absence of Prof. Lawson, the writing teacher, which expired the first of the year, came up, and a motion to extend the time six weeks was carried by a vote of 3 to 2.

Mr. Marsh gave notice that at the next meeting he will move to strike out section 133. The section states that no person, except the superintendent, shall visit the schools and occupy the time of the school.

Those who are really sick find their way to hospitals. The others beg on the streets and sometimes manage to do a little scrubbing or washing. Night finds the wretched army divided among the state beer dives, the cheapest lodging-houses and the police stations.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Pine Ridge in Imminent Danger of an Attack.

Col. Forsythe is Relieved of the Command of His Regiment.

An Unfounded Rumor That Gen. Miles Has Been Killed.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs Denies That the Reds Are Starving—The Wounded Knee Fight.

By Telegram to The Times.

OMAHA (Neb.), Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The Bee's correspondent at Pine Ridge telegraphs as follows: All is one long-continued round of excitement here, and an attack from the Indians is almost momentarily expected. As to the situation here, considered in its entirety, indications that the greatest battle in Indian history is almost at hand are increasing. The reports of every scout add new and strong support to these indications, that were only emphasized by the bloody affair on Wounded Knee. Gen. Miles believes exactly this, and has said so in strong words. The small handful of Indian employees here affirm it vehemently. Before the fighting comes they want to try and rescue their relatives from the enemies' camp, and are now interfering with the authorities for permission, at the risk of their lives, to make the attempt. These Indians in the Government employ also express the hope that they can induce many of those who were friendly before the Wounded Knee battle and were remaining here according to instructions, also to come in and be saved from certain annihilation that awaits them in the ranks of the hostiles.

Extensive rifle pits are reported being dug twelve miles west of here by the hostiles, and the report is of such a nature that authorities rely upon its truthfulness. Last night the hostiles burned many houses belonging to settlers along the White river, and finished killing the great herd of Government cattle that they raided so heavily about a month ago and have been drawing on ever since.

Without desiring to make the situation a particle darker than it really is, for God knows the truth is bad enough, everything constrains me to say that the danger in which Pine Ridge Agency's white populace stands at this hour, and must stand until this crisis is all over, is not the least. I say this not for a moment forgetting and knowing perfectly just what military protection we have here. Since Gen. Miles arrived he has received most commendable reports from the administration to avoid bloodshed. Further bloodshed cannot be avoided.

THE ARMY'S DEATH-LIST. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Gen. Schofield received two telegrams from Gen. Miles in regard to the Indian troubles. The first is dated Pine Ridge, January 3, and is as follows: Col. Forsythe, Seventh Cavalry, reports under date of the 23rd inst. the following casualties in a skirmish with the hostiles on White Clay Creek, December 30: Killed—Private Domin M. Franceschetti, Troop G; Wounded—First Lieut. D. Mann, Private Hillock and Kilpatrick, Troop B; Private Clausen, Troop C; Private Kern, Troop D; Private Molan, Troop F, and First Sergt. K. Tyler, Troop K.

The other telegram bore the same date and gave the list of killed and wounded at the Wounded Knee fight, December 29. The list does not differ from that already given in these dispatches.

HOW CAPT. WALLACE DIED. LEAVENWORTH (Kan.), Jan. 5.—A letter from Pine Ridge Agency details some hitherto unknown facts concerning the death of Capt. Wallace at Wounded Knee. After the fight, the letter states, Capt. Wallace was found at the entrance of an Indian lodge with five dead warriors lying near him, each corpse showing a bullet wound. Five of the chambers of the captain's revolver were empty and it is presumed that Wallace killed the five Indians before he was overpowered.

A MASSACRE IS PLANNED. Short Bull Says He Will Capture the Agency at A. Hazards.

OMAHA, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The Bee has the following from its staff correspondent at Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., via Rushville. The announcement of the suspension of Gen. Forsythe came like a flash and creates amazement in some minds. Official mouths are closed to all inquiries on the subject. It will probably become known to the general public, however, later on. The unfortunate disposition of the troops, making it possible for them to do cross-firing with the result of killing one another, during the trouble, is never for a moment considering any of the overtures looking to an amicable settlement, but who has steadily stuck to his lair in the Bad Lands, and has now assumed command of a great body of the hostiles, that they had better move their families a long distance from the agency, as a great raid and massacre was certain. The half-breeds are showing us what they think of this information by getting their families out of here with a rush.

Government Herder John Dwyer and Issue Clerk Pugh have both discovered through their Indian friends of years standing that a raid and massacre has been fully decided upon and is being planned. Gen. Miles is thoroughly conversant with these facts and himself says that our situation is exceedingly critical. There are less than 600 soldiers here now, all told.

The party sent to Wounded Knee to bury the dead Indians have returned. They found and buried eighty-four bucks and sixty-three squaws and children. It was also found that five had been buried by the Indians. In addition to this total, 152, we have heard now and then of others who have been carried away by hostile scouts, etc., sufficient to swell the number of dead Indians as a result of the battle at Wounded Knee to fully 200, with several others yet to die in the improvised hospital here.

A little Indian baby girl, about three months old, was one of two miraculous survivors of the battle at Wounded Knee, who lay for three days beside the dead body of its mother, has been adopted by Mrs. Allison Mallor, a wealthy lady of New York City. Maj. John Burke, manager of Buffalo Bill's Wild West combination, stood as godfather to the child today and had it christened Maggie C. Mallor, the first name and initial being those of the child's new-found benefactress.

Maj. Whitehead, Col. Carr and Capt. Baldwin, the latter of the Fifth Infantry, have been selected as a board of inquiry into Gen. Forsythe's case. The board will sit as soon as possible, and the session will probably be open. Jack, son of old Red Cloud, and a small party of friends came in from the hostile camp this afternoon. They asked that the Indians now at the agency be sent out to help the Indians who fled from the agency on the night of the battle of Wounded Knee to get away from the hostiles. The authorities look upon the request with distrust and reserve their decision. Father Stephen, the Jesuit missionary, left last night for the East. Although he remained here but forty-eight hours or so he is authoritatively said to have successfully drawn upon him the best source of information among the hostiles. As he was leaving, he said to me: "I am convinced that there will be more bloodshed and that the greatest fight is yet to come."

THE OKLAHOMA REDS. Orders Issued to Disarm the Cheyennes and Arapahoes.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The Associated Press correspondent at Guthrie, Oklahoma, telegraphs about the situation among the Indians, that news of Sitting Bull's death and the fight at Wounded Knee, together with the exaggerated reports of a massacre of Sioux squaws and children, caused considerable commotion among the Indians. A ghost-dance is now being held at Red Rock, about sixty miles north. The Cheyennes and Arapahoes have received news that the Government intends to disarm them. It is not known here whether there is any truth in the report, but it has greatly disturbed them. The friendly Sioux Indians in Guthrie today said that the Cheyennes and Arapahoes would resist disarmament. The military officers here would not confirm or deny the report, but said that something would be done soon. The settlers in the vicinity of Guthrie are not disturbed over the situation.

WICHITA (Kan.), Jan. 5.—Orders telegraphed from military headquarters to Capt. Woodson of the Fifth Cavalry, to disarm the Indians of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country, has created the greatest anxiety among settlers in Oklahoma and on the border of Texas. The Indians of the southwest reservations are peaceable enough, and the taking away of their arms will, it is feared, have the effect of rousing a spirit of resistance now dormant.

THE SITUATION ELSEWHERE. Stomped Settlers Will Be Fed by the Government.

LINCOLN (Neb.), Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Thayer today received a telegram from Secretary of War Proctor, saying that, at the governor's request, rations will be issued for the time being for people who have been obliged by the Indian troubles to leave their homes. This course is only for the emergency. They should be provided for otherwise as soon as possible. Directions have been given for the issue of arms and ammunition that can be spared from Fort Robinson.

The Governor is also in receipt of an extended letter from Special Relief Commissioner Martin, at Rushville, saying that the settlers for miles around have flocked to town, fearing an attack from roving bands of Indians, and the settlements are menaced. Tomorrow practically all of the State militia will be concentrated on the border.

DANCING ON BAD RIVER. PIERRE (S. D.), Jan. 5.—Two parties in from Bad River report that the Indians all along the river are preparing to hold a ghost-dance. They state that the Indians at the forks of Bad and White rivers are also showing signs of this kind of dancing. The report says that this is the first time the Indians have offered to take part in the outbreak.

ORDERED TO GET READY. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—General Gibbons today received orders from Washington to have two companies of the Fifth Cavalry and two companies of the Fourth Cavalry to hold themselves in readiness to start at once for the scene of Indian trouble in Dakota.

WILLING TO GO TO THE FRONT. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Gen. Morgan, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, says that he is ready to go to Dakota to treat with the Indians if the President and Secretary of the Interior desire him to do so.

BUFFALO BILL'S MISSION. LINCOLN (Neb.), Jan. 5.—Col. Cody (Buffalo Bill) will leave tomorrow morning on an important mission among the Indians, being sent by Gov. Thayer. The latter declines at present to make known the nature of the mission.

CAPTURE OF ARTIST REMINGTON. OMAHA, Jan. 5.—A special from White River, S. D., says: Frederick Remington, Harper's war artist, was captured by a small party of hostiles yesterday. Remington was unarmed, and the Indians turned him loose and told him to go home after taking his tobacco and sketch book from him.

A MERE FABRICATION. Secretary Noble Denies That the Sioux are Being Starved.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Secretary Noble was questioned today as to what action had been taken on the recommendation of Gen. Miles that the Indian agents of the South Dakota agencies be relieved from further duty, and that their places be filled by military officers. The Secretary said that he did not care to discuss the matter further than to say that the subject had not been mentioned to him by anyone with authority to act in the matter. It is believed, however, should Gen. Miles's recommendation be submitted to him by the President for his views, the Secretary would strongly oppose the transfer. The Secretary spoke with some earnestness of reports that had been in circulation recently to the effect that the Indians were in a starving condition, and that the pending trouble grew out of the fact that the Government had not kept its agreement with the Sioux, but, on the contrary, had already begun to cut down the rations in violation of all treaty obligations.

The Secretary denounced these statements as unqualifiedly false. The story of starvation among the Sioux was a pure fabrication. For ten long years the Government, in the fulfillment of treaty obligations, had been feeding the Sioux in idleness. Some of them, however, were thieving farmers and good citizens, but the largest proportion were a thriftless and indolent set, perfectly willing to spend their time in idleness and loafing with the Government on every conceivable pretext. The treaty of 1877, the Secretary said, obliged the Government to furnish them with a certain amount of food, clothing, implements, horses, cattle, etc., etc., until they should become self-supporting. After ten years had elapsed, during which time the Government spent millions of dollars with a view of placing the Indians on a self-supporting basis, the Government had not properly begun to inquire whether it was the purpose of the Government to continue indefinitely and forever the policy of feeding Indians who persisted in living in idleness. They thought about time to test their ability to support themselves, and so the appropriation was reduced $100,000, not a very large sum compared with the amount usually called for.

Thereupon the Indian immediately began to complain, but made no effort toward feeding himself. He occupied a vast territory containing thousands of acres of productive land, he was supplied with everything necessary to improve it and raise good crops, but preferred to do nothing and let the Government continue to put food in his mouth. It was time, the Secretary thought, that these people should be compelled to do something, and he had lost patience with those who upheld the Indians in their idleness. He sincerely regretted that the recent action of the military had resulted in bloodshed, and he congratulated himself that his department was in no sense responsible for it.

RELIEF MEASURES PROPOSED. There was today laid before the House a letter from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the Secretary of the Interior, giving the opinion that a relief fund should be furnished by Congress so as to enable the department to assist all Indians who require aid in this winter, not only with food, but also in the purchase of seeds and other articles required for planting in the spring, and to grant immediate assistance when required. He submits a draft of an item to be inserted in the Indian Appropriation Bill, proposing an appropriation of $150,000 for the purpose mentioned. The tribes appealing to the Government for help are principally the Yankton, Sioux of South Dakota, the Arickaraes, of North Dakota, the Kiowa and Comanche of Texas, and the Northern Arapahoes of Wyoming and the Sisseton and Devils Lake Indians of North and South Dakota.

COL. FORSYTHE RELIEVED. His Actions at Wounded Knee to be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The report of the relief of Col. Forsythe of the command of the Seventh Cavalry, by Gen. Miles, is confirmed at the War Department today. The officials, however, show a decided disinclination to talk about the matter. Gen. Schofield said: "I had been suggested by a person whom I cannot mention that it would be well to look into the matter of the fight at Wounded Knee Creek the other day, inasmuch as the reports state that several Indian women and children were killed. Accordingly, Gen. Miles, at a suggestion from here, relieved Col. Forsythe of his command pending an investigation of the circumstances of this fight, which investigation is probably now being conducted by Gen. Miles. The general conduct of the fight is also to be looked into, but the particular point in question is the death of the women and children."

Considerable criticism against Col. Forsythe's suspension is heard in the War Department. It seems to be directed against the policy of relieving an officer during the progress of a campaign, instead of waiting until after the trouble is settled. As to the charge that Col. Forsythe allowed his men to kill women and children, it is stated that it would be impossible, in the hurry of the campaign, to expect light and subsequent rampage and pursuit, to detect the sex of a Sioux.

One officer remarked: "It is preposterous to say that it is necessary in an Indian war to shoot women and children. It is enough to find out just what sort of an Indian you are shooting at. The women and men look very much alike in their blanket costumes, and the former are quite as fierce fighters as the men. A Sioux squaw is as much an enemy as a buck at times. Little boys, too, can shoot quite as well as their fathers, and what a spectacle it would be for a soldier, on seeing a ten-year-old boy pointing a gun at him, to hold with as true an aim as the best marksman in the army, to stop his advance and cry out: 'My son, you must drop that gun, for you are a minor and I am not allowed to hurt you.'"

"At this rate the Sioux troubles will grow to be just as bad as the events of the first three years of the war, when every officer with an independent command had not only an enemy in front of him but a court-martial behind him."

Still another officer said that it was a grave error to order the relief of Col. Forsythe at this stage of the proceedings, and thus hold up a warning finger to every colonel in the army around Pine Ridge to tell them that the death of each Sioux must be explained.

A WILD STORY. Rumors of the Killing of Gen. Miles by the Indians.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] A special dispatch from St. Paul to a morning paper says that a telegram received in that city reports that Gen. Miles was killed in a battle with Indians. Capt. Higgins, acting assistant adjutant-general in charge of the army headquarters at this city, has had no word in regard to the killing of Gen. Miles. He does not credit the report.

A dispatch from Gordon, Neb., received this morning, says that the rumor is current there that Gen. Miles has been killed, but the report is unfounded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Nothing has been received at the War Department about the rumor that Gen. Miles has been killed by Indians, and the report is discredited.

WHAT WE EAT.

Pertinent Points Concerning Local Produce.

SMALL FARMING WOULD PAY.

Why Butter and Eggs Are High—Notes and Comment—Persons and Events—Local and General Interest.

About a year ago there was published in these columns an article pertaining to the local food supply, in which the opinions of some of the leading grocers were quoted to the effect that much too little local produce is raised. The price of vegetables and other staple articles of food is one of practical interest to the head of every household, and the daily market values of such commodities affect in a large measure the financial interests of a community. That butter and eggs and potatoes are higher in Pasadena than they should be is generally admitted, but few stop to consider why. With a view of eliciting some practical information on the subject, the reporter yesterday called upon some of the grocers to inquire if the same conditions regarding the amount of local production exist now as last year.

One of the gentlemen called upon said that he thought the amount of local produce raised is larger this year than last. This is especially true of eggs, which are gradually becoming more plentiful. Nevertheless, the supply falls far short of the demand, as the large shipments of butter, eggs, potatoes and the like from distant points show.

On the matter of butter, another grocer produced a letter just received from one of the largest wholesalers of local produce raised in this country, stating that the Pasadena dealers get butter at exactly the same price charged the firms in large cities. The letter also predicted that the price of butter in Los Angeles is likely to become considerably elevated before long for certain sundry reasons. This, however, is not likely to effect the Pasadena market, which is supplied directly from the north. The grocer added that the amount of local produce is not nearly as large as it should be, and urged the importance of emphasizing the quality of California produce, especially adapted to the production of all varieties of vegetables.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The eastern rail is not a certain quantity—perhaps it comes, and perhaps it doesn't. The same applies to the overland—only more so. The amount of money spent by the Santa Fe during the summer in the way of building passes and the like, seems so much wasted so far as affecting any regularity in the running of trains. Will things be ever thus?

The scarcity of local produce is touched upon elsewhere. One reason why more of our people refrain from going into the poultry business or more especially the business of raising small vegetables, is on account of the Chinaman who have a sort of truck garden monopoly. Yet it is nonsense to assert that white labor cannot compete with Chinamen in the matter of raising vegetables. It is true the Chinaman can live cheaper than an American. At the same time the Chinaman makes satisfactory profits—enough to take him to his native land and keep him there the rest of his life, after several years in the vegetable business. An American ought to be able to get along on smaller profits and live more comfortably. There will always be demand for whatever produce is raised hereabouts, local producers invariably being given the preference by the merchants. There are too many men about town who have passed the past year in idleness, waiting for a boom, and now that it is at hand they are ready to rent a piece of land and raise vegetables, together with farm products, they would at least earn a comfortable living.

J. Pluvius seems to have lost his pristine vigor in these parts. Last season he frequently had things all his own way a week at a time, but now he cannot stay in the thing more than one night in succession. However, more staying powers on the part of the old gentleman might prove of material benefit to next summer's water supply.

The demand for THE TIMES ANNUAL continues. A good thing is always appreciated.

The week of prayer is being observed at some of the churches, services being held each evening.

Justice Gardner began operations in his official capacity yesterday. He has quarters in the Mills block.

Rain fell until 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the special meeting of the Shakespeare Club will be held at 4 o'clock instead of 3, as announced.

The overland due here Sunday at 2:30 p. m. did not materialize until nearly 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Then it brought no through mail, to the chagrin of a long-suffering populace. Yesterday's overland was billed twelve hours late.

A foot-race between J. W. Wood and J. S. Cox was arranged for yesterday afternoon, but owing to some disagreement as to the distance to be covered, the exciting event was indefinitely postponed.

Justice of the Peace and City Recorder H. H. Rose assumed the bench yesterday noon, at the City Hall. Justice Van Doren stepped out at the close of an honorable and well-conducted term of office.

The Ladies' Central Committee of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a special business meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the reading-room of the association, Fish Block. All ladies interested in the work are invited to be present.

A BARREL OF GOOD THINGS.

Indians Made Happy by Gifts From Pasadena.

Secretary George Taylor of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday received a letter from Mary J. Platt, who has charge of the Indian school at the Pacheco Reservation at Temacac.

Referring to the barrel of presents recently sent from Pasadena by Mr. Taylor, she says: "I have not forgotten the three gentlemen who were here in July, and was much pleased to hear from you; also with the barrel of useful things for the Indians. We found them very useful, indeed. Everything was good, and I assure you they were received with grateful thanks. I gave them out at Christmas time. We had a little Christmas tree for the children, and everything that had been donated was given out then. The house was full, yet every body got something, the children, of course, coming in for the lion's share. Every one went away happy and grateful."

Miss Platt adds that the Indians, to the best of her knowledge, have kept their pledge of total abstinence from strong drink, and are trying to live good, honest lives.

WHICH HORSE WILL WIN?

A Big Crowd Assured for Saturday's Races.

If indications count for anything the biggest crowd ever assembled at the Driving Park will be there next Saturday afternoon. Interest in the races is not confined to town. A number of lovers of horseflesh will be out from Los Angeles, all the horsemen from the Rose and Baldwin ranches will be on hand, a crowd will come from Azusa in a four-in-hand and Monrovia will be practically depopulated. All the horses are in active training and without exception are in fine trim. The race between Mr. Vandevort's and Vore & Hone's horses will be best three in five, half-mile heats, instead of best two in three, as before stated. Arrangements have been made to sell pools at the grounds for the accommodation of the betting public. Yesterday the races were the chief topic of conversation on the street.

SANTA MONICA.

A Much-needed Rain—New Express Agent—General Notes.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 5.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] We have had about half an inch of rain during the past twenty-four hours. At about noon it cleared off bright and warm, thus insuring that the soil will receive the full benefit of the downpour.

The citizens generally received a surprise in the appointment of another agent at this point for Wells-Fargo Express. Col. Chapin, who has been their agent for the past ten years, has the confidence of the community, who believe his removal was an unjustifiable move. The appointee is a young man who stands high in the community, and when the change was made he was pleased with the appointment while regretting Col. Chapin's removal.

REDONDO.

Welcome Rain—Veritable Spring Weather—Whales and Porpoises.

REDONDO, Jan. 5.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The welcome rain came pattering down last night, and the day has been made more beautiful thereby. It is veritable spring weather, and vegetation is rapidly growing.

The visitors to the hotel yesterday were treated to rather an unusual sight in the shape of the appling. They were six in number, and could be seen plainly with the naked eye about four miles out. A school of porpoises also passed, going South.

A German is on tap for Thursday evening at the hotel.

Capl. and Mrs. Adairworth spent the day in Los Angeles with friends. The Santa Cruz came in from San Francisco last night, bringing 125 tons of merchandise.

Today's arrivals are: Julius Schreiber, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; James Philadelphia, M. Robinson, New York; F. C. Haines and wife, Camden, N. J.; F. A. Colter, Chicago.

The steamers Nayo and Bonita started North Sunday, the latter with fifteen tons of stone.

COURAGE SAVED HER LIFE.

A Young Woman Hangs Beneath a Trestle as a Train Thunders Above.

Clinging for her life to a rough beam while a flying express train thundered above and swayed to and fro, swinging in midair with death above and below her until almost exhausted by the fatigue that came of the terrible strain upon her, physically and mentally.

This was the dire predicament in which Miss Norma Onken, of Ridgeway avenue, Avondale, was placed one afternoon, and it was only due to her cool judgment and calm presence of mind that she did not meet with a shocking death. In attempting to cross a railroad trestle which spans the rocky bed of Bloody Run, a little bed north of Avondale, she was run down by an express train, the engineer of which was endeavoring to make up for lost time by running at full speed. To prevent being hurled from the trestle she was compelled to let herself down on the outside of the track and hang on until she was rescued.

With Mr. Richard Hall, of Walnut Hills, and Miss Nannie Fisher, of Avondale, she started out for a walk. They went along the Cincinnati and Lebanon and Northern Narrow Gauge railroad toward Lebanon, and as they reached the trestle Mr. Hall and Miss Fisher held back, fearing to meet a train. Miss Onken, though knowing it to be near train time, thought to cross the trestle before the train could come.

She went about half way over when the Montgomery accommodation, due in Cincinnati at 2:35, whistled. She looked up and was horrified to see the train driving toward her with great speed. It was train No. 12, of which Ed. F. Doherty is conductor and Lee Barnard trainman, and it was traveling between thirty-five and forty miles an hour. When Miss Onken saw the train coming toward her she displayed a wonderful presence of mind. She threw herself over the side of the trestle and there clinging to the timber.

The engineer, George Collins, seeing the gentleman and lady at the other end of the trestle, reversed the engine and stopped as soon as possible; but it was not until he had passed Miss Onken some distance. Running back on the trestle Doherty and Barnard each took one of Miss Onken's hands and pulled her up on the track. She was much dead than alive. She was exhausted and could have held on but a very short time longer.

Without help just at that time she would have fallen into the creek twenty feet or more below her.

After resting a few moments she was able to resume her walk, none the worse for her harrowing experience. The spot where the scene occurred is noted for accidents. On the 4th of July last an old colored woman was thrown from a trestle and dreadfully injured, breaking two of her limbs and fracturing her skull. Three weeks ago there was a collision at this point, and one of the battered engines is still half buried in the mud there—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Probably a Meteoric Explosion. Early one morning recently the people of Mammoth Spring, Thayer and the surrounding section of Arkansas were awakened by a terrific report which shook up the buildings and crockery. As soon as day dawned the rumor gained circulation that the large Moller freight engine had exploded on the switch yards at Thayer, and the report soon reached Thayer that the large boiler used in the dyeing department of the cotton factory had exploded at Mammoth Spring. By noon it was found that no such thing as a boiler explosion had occurred or that any dynamite had been given out at either place. After interviewing a number of persons who were awake at the time, and others who were still before going to their day's labor, it was found that the explosion occurred in the air at no great distance from the earth, and caused such a shock to the earth and houses as to excite a widespread terror.

A HORSE WHO CAN TALK!

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph under which it would be placed. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be a terrible affliction, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the discovery of the cure for this terrible disease is not so much a miracle as it once was. The discovery will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent cure for consumption, asthma, blood-poison, or blood-cleanser, and nutritive, or flesh-builder, to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, and all Lingular Coughs, it is an unequalled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, or "liver complaint," Quinsy, and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

THE RAILROADS.

General Manager K. H. Wade and the A. and P.

A CHANGE THAT MAY OCCUR.

The Necessity for Putting That Line on a Better Footing—Prominent Visitors Interviewed.

President Marvel of the Santa Fe probably has had his eyes opened during the past few weeks that it is advisable to place the control of the Atlantic and Pacific under the management of General Manager K. H. Wade of the Southern California. When Mr. Wade took hold of this line, about a year ago, it was in a worse condition than the Atlantic and Pacific. This gentleman, who stands on the top round of the ladder with rail-road men, did not lose any time in pulling off his coat and going to work, and today his system will rank with any road in the United States. The same transformation scene would take place along the line of the Atlantic and Pacific in a very short time should the company see fit to put him at the head of that dilapidated road. It seems to be impossible to get a passenger train over that road on time, and the first thing the company knows it will have to transfer every particle of freight to the Southern Pacific. The A. and P. is true, runs through some rough country, where washouts are common, but no one who has been over the line will say that it is as bad as Mr. Wade's little run through the Cajon. It is true that the Cajon, but he has made it as safe as any road through the mountains and he would do the same thing with the A. and P.

WILL NOT BUILD ROADS.
C. L. Canfield and C. L. Dall of the St. Paul are in this city on business, and also for their health. Mr. Canfield was seen yesterday and is of the opinion that building a road in this country is a waste of money at least at present. He does not believe that the Union Pacific, or any of the roads, will move a hand while the company is in existence, and from the general outlook the great magnates who have put their heads together do not intend to quarrel into the future. "From my way of thinking," said Mr. Canfield, "the roads were compelled to enter into this combination. It is true that business has increased wonderfully during the past few years over the western roads, but the profits have not kept pace with the increase in business and the roads are not in a position to operate jointly. Shippers will get better service and rates will be more even, and I believe that this combination will prove advantageous to all parties concerned. It is now some months since I visited Southern California, and I notice a wonderful improvement in the business. It is growing at a wonderful rate of speed, and business of all kinds is better than in any other part of the country. The Santa Fe is a beautiful appearance here than in San Francisco, and I believe the time is fast approaching when this city will become a powerful rival of the northern metropolis."

A CASE OF SUICIDE.
The Death of H. H. Spencer at San Bernardino.

Brief mention was made in THE TIMES yesterday morning announcing the death of H. H. Spencer of this city, one of the recently-elected library directors, who was found dead in his bed in his room at the hotel in San Bernardino, where he had gone on a business trip. An Associated Press dispatch from that city, received yesterday, gives the following details, from which it appears that it was a case of suicide:

H. H. Spencer, of Los Angeles, committed suicide here yesterday by taking morphine. He had been in the city since the 1st of December, and was in the city and in a double construction, which was stated "the buyers had combined to pay a certain price for oranges." This, he says, is not the case. The meaning was that they are to regulate the difference in prices on all sizes. Every buyer is at liberty to pay what prices he chooses or what the interest of his trade will warrant.

LANDED IN JAIL.

A Fugitive Captured After a Lively Chase.

Last evening the Chief of Police received a dispatch from the Bank of Commerce of San Diego asking him to arrest a young German named Phillip and hold him until an officer arrives. The telegram stated that he would probably take the train for San Francisco. Detective Bosqui was detailed to look the man up, and he located Phillip at the Wolfskill shortly before the train left. Bosqui was not quite sure of his man, so he boarded the train and rode as far as the Commercial-Street Depot, where he placed Phillip under arrest and gathered up his baggage and started for the station. As they went, the train started and Bosqui did not see the start of Phillip, and the officer fired a shot in the air to stop him but it had no effect, and he did not see for some time when he was fired $10 to catch him. He had no time to make his escape. The men captured him, however, and he was landed in the city prison. When searched $500.85 were found on his person. He lives at Burbank and it is supposed that he is connected with the bank to the tune of $500. He bought a ticket for Mojave and it is supposed that he is going to the East. He refused to talk and says he will be able to clear himself.

He Wanted Whisky.

Shortly before Dillman's wholesale liquor store on South Main street closed last evening, a Chinaman named Ah Lin entered the front door and got away with about $10 worth of whisky. An employee captured him before he had gone a block and marched him to the police station, where he was locked up on a charge of petty larceny.

FUN, NOT BUSINESS.

Is What Kalaakua Is Visiting the United States for.

(San Diego Sun.)

The British residents of the Hawaiian Islands are reported to be in a dubious state of mind over the visit of King Kalaakua to this country, their idea being that he is here to sell his kingdom to the United States. They do not seem to be aware that Hawaii is not the personal property of the monarch, and they have overlooked the fact that the King, far from negotiating with the American Government about anything, is traveling in California, and particularly in San Diego, intent upon seeing the sights and leaving a good impression. It is true that business has increased wonderfully during the past few years over the western roads, but the profits have not kept pace with the increase in business and the roads are not in a position to operate jointly. Shippers will get better service and rates will be more even, and I believe that this combination will prove advantageous to all parties concerned. THE POLICE STATION, breaking up the demonstration. Schultz, of the Palace S. Loan, got up the affair. The recent saloon-keepers of the city are very indignant over the matter and denounced his course in unmeasured terms.

LANDED IN JAIL.
A Fugitive Captured After a Lively Chase.

Last evening the Chief of Police received a dispatch from the Bank of Commerce of San Diego asking him to arrest a young German named Phillip and hold him until an officer arrives. The telegram stated that he would probably take the train for San Francisco. Detective Bosqui was detailed to look the man up, and he located Phillip at the Wolfskill shortly before the train left. Bosqui was not quite sure of his man, so he boarded the train and rode as far as the Commercial-Street Depot, where he placed Phillip under arrest and gathered up his baggage and started for the station. As they went, the train started and Bosqui did not see the start of Phillip, and the officer fired a shot in the air to stop him but it had no effect, and he did not see for some time when he was fired $10 to catch him. He had no time to make his escape. The men captured him, however, and he was landed in the city prison. When searched $500.85 were found on his person. He lives at Burbank and it is supposed that he is connected with the bank to the tune of $500. He bought a ticket for Mojave and it is supposed that he is going to the East. He refused to talk and says he will be able to clear himself.

He Wanted Whisky.
Shortly before Dillman's wholesale liquor store on South Main street closed last evening, a Chinaman named Ah Lin entered the front door and got away with about $10 worth of whisky. An employee captured him before he had gone a block and marched him to the police station, where he was locked up on a charge of petty larceny.

FUN, NOT BUSINESS.
Is What Kalaakua Is Visiting the United States for.

(San Diego Sun.)

The British residents of the Hawaiian Islands are reported to be in a dubious state of mind over the visit of King Kalaakua to this country, their idea being that he is here to sell his kingdom to the United States. They do not seem to be aware that Hawaii is not the personal property of the monarch, and they have overlooked the fact that the King, far from negotiating with the American Government about anything, is traveling in California, and particularly in San Diego, intent upon seeing the sights and leaving a good impression. It is true that business has increased wonderfully during the past few years over the western roads, but the profits have not kept pace with the increase in business and the roads are not in a position to operate jointly. Shippers will get better service and rates will be more even, and I believe that this combination will prove advantageous to all parties concerned. It is now some months since I visited Southern California, and I notice a wonderful improvement in the business. It is growing at a wonderful rate of speed, and business of all kinds is better than in any other part of the country. The Santa Fe is a beautiful appearance here than in San Francisco, and I believe the time is fast approaching when this city will become a powerful rival of the northern metropolis."

NOTES.
General Manager K. H. Wade of the Santa Fe is building a fine cottage at Coronado for his family.

The Santa Fe overland was reported twelve hours late yesterday on account of trouble on the A. and P.

The Electric Bell Company will probably open permanent offices at the meeting of directors in San Francisco this week.

Mrs. A. S. Towne and party came up from San Diego in Mr. Towne's private car yesterday morning, and left on the 10:15 for San Francisco.

All local trains on the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific and the Southern Pacific overland from the East were reported on time yesterday afternoon.

The Westinghouse people are again in the city, and are converting the old Los Angeles and Pacific road into an electric road being revived. The foothill people between this city and Santa Monica are determined to have a road.

A CASE OF SUICIDE.
The Death of H. H. Spencer at San Bernardino.

Brief mention was made in THE TIMES yesterday morning announcing the death of H. H. Spencer of this city, one of the recently-elected library directors, who was found dead in his bed in his room at the hotel in San Bernardino, where he had gone on a business trip. An Associated Press dispatch from that city, received yesterday, gives the following details, from which it appears that it was a case of suicide:

H. H. Spencer, of Los Angeles, committed suicide here yesterday by taking morphine. He had been in the city since the 1st of December, and was in the city and in a double construction, which was stated "the buyers had combined to pay a certain price for oranges." This, he says, is not the case. The meaning was that they are to regulate the difference in prices on all sizes. Every buyer is at liberty to pay what prices he chooses or what the interest of his trade will warrant.
